Host a Community Conversation about Mental Health at Your School:

- One in five Americans will experience a mental health issue during their lifetime. These issues often start early, with 50 percent by age 14 and 75 percent by age 24. The good news is that recovery is possible. Student council leaders can make a difference in their school communities by bringing students together to talk about mental health and substance use. Over the past year, student council advisors and officers from several Texas Association of Student Councils member schools – including Boswell High School and Anahuac High School – have worked with the Speak Your Mind Texas campaign to host Community Conversations.
- Benefits of hosting a Community Conversation include:
 - Offers valuable leadership opportunities to student leaders
 - Addresses an important health issue.
 - Brings students and staff together as a community.
 - Provides a forum for open discussion.
 - Reduces negative perceptions around mental health.
 - Helps students recognize warning signs and know how to help a friend in need.
 - Encourages teens to speak up if they or someone they know needs help
- The Speak Your Mind Texas campaign offers downloadable resources including a planning guide, customizable agenda template, powerful testimonial videos and more. In addition, posters and brochures in both English and Spanish may be ordered free of charge.
- Visit SpeakYourMindTexas.org and access the Events and Materials tabs to get started planning your school's Community Conversation!
