Title:	National Counseling Week - Give Back to Your School Counselor
Objective:	To show appreciation to your school counselor and show case how important a school counselor is to your campus.
Indicate Target Group:	Entire School
Resources Used:	Crate Paper, colored paper, scissors, glue, and a lot of love!
Description:	Brock Junior High Student Council showed our appreciation for our school counselor by decorating her door. She is an avid runner so we selected the theme, "Thanks for going the extra mile!" We cut out tennis shoe templates and had students and teachers write notes of appreciation for all the great things our counselor does for our school, our students, and our staff. We hung the notes along a running path. Announcements were also made during the week of National Counseling week to showcase all the activities, responsibilities, and programs that our school counselors brings to our school.

Title:	Registrar Appreciation Week
Objective:	To show our registrars how much we appreciate them for all their hard work
Indicate Target Group:	Franklin High School Registrars (2) and Registrar Assistant (1)
Resources Used:	Cookies, Lotion, Strawberries, Blueberries, Hershey Bars, M&M's, Starbucks Cards
Description:	During the last week of January, we declared it Registrar Appreciation Week. Even though this is not a real holiday, we decided it would be nice to honor the people who do so much extra work for our students and our Student Council. On Monday, the two registrars and the registrar's assistant received cookies with a note that said "Thank you for making us smart cookies." Tuesday was hand lotion with a note that read "You are scent-sational." Wednesday was a bag of fresh berries and a tag stating "We are berry thankful to have you." Thursday's note said "Having you is sweet" with a Hershey bar. The last day was a gift card for each of these fabulous ladies.

Title:	Custodian Dinner
Objective:	To thank our custodial staff for all their work
Indicate Target Group:	Custodial staff from both campuses
Resources Used:	Donated holiday food bins for each custodian, dinner from Rudy's, decorations
Description:	The Student Council executive board decorated the tables and then served and ate dinner with the custodial staff. After dinner, numbers were drawn, and the custodians were each given a large plastic bin filled with all the ingredients for a holiday meal. The bins were put together by the sports teams and clubs on campus as a thank you to the custodians as well. Each bin also contains a small gift in a addition to the food items. The value of each bin is $40-$70. Bins are numbered at random and awarded through a drawing method so that as much fairness as possible is achieved. The dinner is an annual event that both custodians and Student Council look forward to each year.

Title:	First Impressions
Objective:	To kick off the year by appreciating our teachers
Indicate Target Group:	Teachers
Resources Used:	Posters for publicity, scrap paper, pens, ballot box
Description:	First Impressions is a great, easy project to do during the first week of school. The first Friday after a full week, Student Council sets up a table at all lunches and asks students to write down what teacher has made the best first impression and why. The top three teachers with the most votes receive a Mexican food meal of their choice delivered to them the next week. Select notes with good explanations on why the teacher made such a good first impression are delivered to their respective teachers.

Title:	Thanksgiving Baskets for Custodians
Objective:	Show our appreciation towards our custodians.
Indicate Target Group:	Custodians, Studens, and Faculty and Staff
Resources Used:	Baskets, Groceries, Cellophane, Tables, Ribbon, Shredded Paper
Description:	Thanksgiving is a special holiday; it is a day to be thankful for everything you have in life. Student Council in collaboration with LULAC distributed Thanksgiving baskets to the custodians. The Student Council members donated the essentials for the baskets, which consisted of green beans, corn, mashed potatoes, gravy, cranberries, dinner rolls, and stuffing. We presented each custodian with a basket after a thankful speech given by students. These baskets were given as an appreciation towards our custodians because of their hard work and dedication to our students.
